A woman from South Omaha called on the police last evening for assistance in getting her daughter to go home with her. The girl ran away with a party of campers and was found by her mother in camp at the corner of Twenty-ninth street and Ninth avenue. The police failed to do anything for the mother, and she left for home without leaving her name. Mrs. Shoemaker, who lives near the transfer, and whose husband left her about four years ago, is reported to be in an almost starved condition. She has been ill for a long The city physician was called in, but refused to come. Her children are without most of the necessaries of life. Her sad case was brought to the attention of some of the men at the transfer last evening, and they and their families did what they could to make her comfortable. The Woman's Christian association ladies who made the preparations for the recent operatic entertainment, "Powhatan," made slightly less than $400 clear of all expenses. The latter were somewhat larger than had been expected, and the attendance on the second night was rather of a disappointment. The $300 collected from the sale of ment. The $300 collected from the sale of advertising space in the programs nearly paid the expenses and the balance, amounting to a little less than $800, was divided between the association and the director.

Eugene Motiaz began two suits yesterday against C. H. and A. W. Huber. "Black Crook" Today.

The attraction to be presented at the new Dohany theater this afternoon and evening is the world-famed spectacular romance, "The Black Crook." It has been played more times than any play known to American theater goers. The scenery, of which there are tons, is alone worthy of especial attention, and when the superb dramatic cast, the charming ballets, the dazzling costumes and the sump tuous transformation scenes are considered, not to speak of the numerous European not to speak of the numerous European specialties, it is easily the most imposing production that our citizens will have a chance to witness this neason. ROBBED THE MINDEN POSTOFFICE. Three Masked Burglars Loot the Place at Their Leisure. George Grontweg's store at Minden, in he eastern part of Pottswattamie county, was entered by burglars Thursday night. Groneweg is postmaster as well as proprietor of the principal store of the town. A son of Deputy Sheriff John P. Stuhr is employed with him, and stays in the building at night. Yest rday morning about 2 o'clock the oung man was awakened by having a pistol roved in his face, and ordered to get out for bed. He did so, and found himself in the presence of three masked burglars. They fastened his hands behind him and gagged him, leaving him thed to the bed, while they went through the building. Thry drilled a hole in the safe combination and poured some powder into it. The explosion that followed few seconds later smashed the combination to fragments and the contents of the safe were at their disposal. They stole $50 that belonged to the government, and $20 from Mr. Groneweg's private drawer, and then made their escape. In the meantime Stuhr had been twisting and squirming until he loosed his bonds. He escaped soon after west in a light wagon about 2 o'clock in the morning. The Council Bluffs police were requested to be on the lookout for Neither Stuhr nor the brakeman was ablto give a description of the men, which helps very much in the search for a clew. The only thing learned is that one of the robbers was taller than the other two, and were a dark suit and a Fedora hat. All three had masks which covered their whole faces, and that fact, together with the natural excitement of the occasion, furnished ample excuse for Stuhr's inability to help the officers.

The explosion set fire to the office, but was checked without any great damage the burglars and gave the slarm. Three men were seen by a Rock Island brakeman driving

SUES HIS WIFE'S PARENTS.

W. E. Aitchison Asks Damages on Ac-A sequel to the divorce proceedings of in the district court last year, transpired last evening, when William E. Aitchison filed in the office of the clerk of the district court a petition asking for a judgment of $25,000 against James B. and Sarah E. Patterson. As readers of The Bee may remember, the proceedings for a divorce were instituted by Mrs. Aitchison, but the decision of the court was adverse to her. The petition filed last evening sets forth the fact that they were married in 1890 and lived together happily for about three years. Then, at the solicitaof Mrs. Aitchison's parents, Mr. and Patterson, they took rooms at the lat-house. Shortly afterward, the petition states, the lady's parents conceived a great dislike for him, insulting him in the presence of his wife and by means of false state ments concerning him brought him into dis-repute in her estimation. Then the two illies separated and be made a home at last persuaded her to leave him and come back home and then to commence the di-vorce proceedings against him. He claims

Mary Jackson Claims Damages. Mary Jackson appears as plaintiff in a suit which was commenced in the district court vesterday against the Omaha & Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge company for $10,000 damages. The petition alleges that on the 20th of last July she was on board a westbound train, and told the conductor to let her off at the corner of Avenue A and St. Louis system, now owned by the Rock Twenty-fifth streets. The conductor failed to do so, but carried her down to the car son Bros. of New Ulm for building an eighbouse, where she was transferred to an eastbound train and brought back to the corner of Twenty-fifth street. On account of a defect in the curtain which hung down the ide of the open car she was delayed about getting out, and the train crew started the rain while she was still standing unsup-ported on the narrow platform. She was thrown to the ground, and claims she was bruised about her arm, side, breast, hip and limb, and has not yet recovered from the injury to her hip. This injury she claims will be permanent. She also lost a $75 gold watch and chain, which she has never seen since. She demands a judgment of $10,000. Will Have a Special Train. over the revelations that have been made of the trafficing of the democratic state central committee with the third party prohibition. committee with the third party prohibitionsts. Democrats are now convinced that their state committee has been guilty of instigating and paying for liquor prosecutions in unexpected announcement of the death of S. S. Stevens, which occurred at Pasadena. Cal., Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock. Dr. The democrats have tried desperately from the democrats have tried desperately from the start of the campaign to make the people take an interest in state issues, but they have been utterly unable to force prohibition into the fight. The people have persisted in the idea that the liquor question is out of politics in the state, and the democratic comthere seemed no probability of the approaching end, and even when taken with this last illness reports from his friends there indicated exposed, and there is a revolt against the management that has assumed the most serious proportions. Secretary Walsh is the originator of the scheme that has been exposed. It happens that he has been the active manager of the democratic campaign. Chairman Ranck is running for the senate in the Iowa City district, and the canvass there has taken all his time. Walsh, because he is a free silver man, has been offensive as a manager to the river counties, because they are all for sound money, and since his latest effort the feeling against him has been tenfold stronger than ever.

Interested in Compulsory Education. DES MOINES, Oct. 25 .- (Special.)-The Iowa Federation of Women's clubs has started a movement in which it will endeavor o interest all philanthropic organizations in Iowa to secure the passage of a compulsory education law by the next legislature. The move was started by the club in this city, and all the women's clubs are taking it up in earnest. In the larger cities, where the need of more general education is more apparent Stevens, the well known pianist, and Mrs. of more general education is more apparent Meek, who, in the social circles of this they are making it an issue in the campaign asking candidates for the legislature to pledge themselves to support such a measure. The politicians are steering clear of the issue as much as possible, fearing it will result in an agitation of the school question, such as made so much trouble in the politics of Wisconsin and Illinois. The ladies, however, are not discouraged. A leading member of the fed-eration of ciubs declares that the women must devote their influence in the next legislature to such a measure as this, rather than to woman suffrage, and secure the passage of a law if possible. The officers of the federa-tion are corresponding with all the subordinate clubs in the state, and with all other organizations that it is thought might be inladies expect will come from two sources first, the politicians, and second, the school authorities of the state, which will show that school houses and facilities are already overtaxed, and a compulsory education law would compel immense expenditures in many cities, BEAT TO DEATH WITH BLUDGEONS. Story of the Constantinople Massaere by an Eye Witness.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.-A letter received to-day from Constantinople by a member of the Armenian National union of this city, from a young lady who was an eye witness of the recent riots and members of whose family were among the victims, says:

"On the Monday of the Holy Cross, immediately after the church service, some fifty young men of from 14 to 20 years of ping it to Chicago. The commissioners are age proceeded to the Babi Ali (sublime porte) present a petition to the grand vizier. They had no evil intentions whatever. About half of this number had their re-volvers, and the other half had no weapons were filed today. It is expected hundreds of them will come in soon. The board has not police, who beat and slapped the petitioners on the faces. One of the young men fired at the major, who fell dead from the wound he received on his breast. Some of the mujor's men fell dead, too. At this point the cavalry were summoned to the scene of conflict. They patrolled the streets, and, riding up and down the streets, they trampled many under the feet of their horses. Those who escaped death in this way were besten to death with the swords of the soldiers. Hardly from ten to fifteen were left alive from this group. This was the first con-

"The Galata bridge was closed to all Christians and Armenians, only Mohammedans from Galata being allowed to come over to Stamboul. All were armed with swords (tataghans.) The Mohammedan residents helped the massacre by throwing domestic utensils, namely, kettles, lamps, plates, tongs and fire shovels, upon the Armenian young men in front of Turkish Kruaks. In half an hour all the Softas, Moohagirs (im-migrants) and Lazes were let loose, with their wives, from the Mohemmedan mosques. Some had their bludgeons, others their knives, others stones. After making the streets clear of Armenian men and women they attacked those khans in which Armenians were living. They forced the doors open and killed every one they found. Few escaped death. Many Armenian porters that were found in the streets were butchered. The corpses of the dead were carried in the night in dirt wagons and dumpd into the sea. Out of 200 residents of Tcahatal Khan 150 were found killed, and the remaining fifty were wounded. No one is to be found from the Anielieh class (those who are dependent upon daily labor work.) "The houses across from the church of Karagomroog were attacked and many killed. Misak, the brother of Rev. Khoren; his (Misak's) mother-in-law, and his wife were cru-elly butchered. The body of Misak's pregnant wife was mutilated, and the body her unborn child lay by her side. The 14-year-old daughter of Misak, seeing the horrible end of her parents, had cried that she was a Mobammedan, and had thus escaped death and torture. She has been taker away. Many are of this class. All the Armentans have great apprehensions for their lives. Some say, 'we will be killed tonight'

"In the Kassim Pasha quarter many were taken unawares and killed while at their meals or asleep. The weapons used by the Turks were stones and bludgeons. Most of the havoc at Stamboul was wrought by the Bashi-Bazooks (irregulars, those not in regu-far military service), and the Tesenables those criminals who have been convicted to hard labor in the imperial arsenal.)

Church Paper Does Not Pay. ABILENE, Kan., Oct. 25.-The Reforms hurch synod of the interior today disc the publication of the Church Herald as St. Joseph, which shows a deficit for the first year. The synod recommends the enlargement of the paper, but a final decision was not reached. The Chicago Mission deficit of $700 was raised by piedges. President Stauffer's annual report showed several new churches built and over $,000 communicants. The synodical missionary society listened to annual addresses by the president, Mrs. Heffley, Lincoln, Neb.; Miss Love, Kansas City, and Rev. Fouse, Lisbon, Ia. The synod's list of officers was completed by the election of S. P. Harrington, Dakoto, Ill., vice president, and C. F. Althurst, Edinburgh, Ill., secretary. St. Joseph, which shows a deficit for the
